The 52nd Street Project is an independent nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of the Police Athletic League and the Ensemble Studio Theatre. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre. The A Peace of My Mind production is a part of our Playmaking program that is designed to teach children how to write plays. After eight weeks of classes, each child is given two actors, a theme and a director who guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend in the country. These are the fruits of their labors.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre. This summer, our One-on-One program will take 20 kids away for one-week stays on Block Island and Cape Cod where they are matched with professional writer/actors who write plays for them to perform together.

The 52nd Street Project at Graham-Windham brings together together kids at Graham-Windham with professional theatre artists to create theatre.

In Playmaking, the students were taught the essentials of playwriting in eight classroom sessions, and then wrote their own play with the support of an adult theatre professional during a weekend retreat in Tannersville, NY.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. Graham-Windham, founded in 1806, annually serves more than 6,000 children from families throughout the New York area. Its services include foster care and adoption; group homes and residential treatment for abused, neglected and emotionally disturbed children.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre. This summer, our One-on-One program will take 20 kids away for one-week stays on Block Island and Cape Cod where they are matched with professional writer/actors who write plays for them to perform together.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre. SOMETIME LATER is the pilot production of a new program called Playback. In it, an adult actor/playwright is paired with a kid actor/playwright. The duo is charged to invent two characters for the kid to write a play for. The adult then responds with a second play using the same two characters. The program was invented to challenge kids who are veterans of the Project's acting and writing programs.

The 52nd Street Project brings inner-city kids together with professional theater artists to do theater. All of the Replay writers have attended Daniel Judah Sklar's 8-week Playmaking course and wrote plays for the production "HumanNature" or "The Dream Theme" in 1990. In February, they all returned to class for an 8-week Replay course which took them to the next step in playwriting. In April, the Project took 15 Replay kids with an equal number of adults to Tannersville for a weekend, where each play was given a rehearsed reading and critique with professional actors. Upon return to New York, the kids attended a week-long re-write class. Four plays were then selected for production. And for the second time in Project history, the plays are "all kid" produced - writers, directors, actors and crew. The first set was in August and we are planning the final set of Replay Plays in the spring.

Special Thanks to:

The P.A.L. staff; Curt, Dominick, and the Ensemble Studio Theatre, Michael Bernard, Wesley Clark, Penny Plunkert, John Klaus, and the kids' parents.

The 52nd Street Project provides adult theater professionals with the opportunity to work with children in order to sample all the new kinds of candy that today's generation consumes. NOT!...April Fool's! The 52nd Street Project really brings inner-city kids together with professional theater artists to do theater. All of the Replay writers attended Daniel Judah Sklar's 8-week Playmaking course and wrote plays for the productions of "HumanNature" or "The Dream Theme" in 1990. In February of last year, they all returned to class for an 8-week Replay course which took them to the next step in playwriting. In April, the Project took 15 Replay kids with an equal number of adults to Tannersville for a weekend, where each play was given a rehearsed reading and critique with professional actors. Upon return to New York, the kids attended a week-long re-write class and six-week directing seminar. The plays were then slated for one of three productions, and for the third time in Project history, the plays are "all-kid" produced - writers, directors, actors and crew. Triple Threats Part One and Two were in August and November respectively; Part Three is the last of the Replay productions and The Project would like to publicly state how un-threatening and delightful this event has been.

Special Thanks to: The P.A.L. staff; Curt Dempster, Dominick Balletta, Kevin Confoy, Andrew Kaplan and the Ensemble Studio Theatre, the strike crew, whoever you are, and the kids' parents.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre. This summer, our One-on-One program will take 20 kids away for one-week stays on Block Island and in Poughkeepsie where they are matched with professional writer/actors who write plays for them to perform together.

The 52nd Street Project at Graham-Windham brings kids from Graham-Windham together with professional theatre artists to create theatre. In Playmaking, the students were taught the essentials of playwriting in eight classroom sessions, and then wrote their own play with the support of an adult theatre professional during a weekend retreat in Palenville, NY.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. Graham-Windham, founded in 1806, annually serves more than 6,000 children from families throughout the New York area. Its services include foster care and adoption; group homes and residential treatment for abused, neglected, and emotionally disturbed children.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theater artists to create theater. This summer, our One-on-One program took 20 kids away for one-week stays on Block Island and in Poughkeepsie where they were matched with professional writer/actors who wrote plays for them to perform together.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre.

FIRST THINGS SECOND is the second-ever production of a program called Playback. In it, an adult actor/playwright is paired with a kid actor/playwright. The duo is charged to invent two characters for the kid to write a play for. The adult then responds with a second play using the same two characters. The program was invented to challenge kids who are veterans of the Project's acting and writing programs.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and the Police Athletic League. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theatre artists to create theatre.

ON THE JOB is a production of our Playmaking program that is designed to teach children how to write a play. After eight weeks of classes, each child is given two actors, a theme and a director who guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend in the country. These are the fruits of their labors.

"Fish Out of Water" is made possible in part by a grant from the MCJ Foundation.

The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre and Rheedlen Place, a community-based counselling center located on 51st Street. The Project brings inner-city children together with professional theater artists to create theater.

FISH OUT OF WATER is a production of our Playmaking program that is designed to teach children how to write a play. After eight weeks of classes, each child is given two actors, a theme and a director who guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend in the country. These are the fruits of their labors.

The 52nd Street Project brings inner-city kids together with professional theater artists to do theater. All of the Replay writers attended Daniel Judah Sklar's eight-week Playmaking course and wrote plays for the productions of "Peace of My Mind" and "Follow The Leader" in 1990-91. In February of last year, they all returned to class for an eight-week Replay course which took them to the next step in playwriting. In May, the Project took 15 Replay kids with a group of friends and family to Esopus, NY for a day-long picnic and reading of their plays with a group of professional actors. The plays were then slated for one of two productions, and for the fifth time in Project history, the plays are "all-kid" produced – writers, directors, actors, and crew. The "squared" symbol after the title signifies that this is the second round of the Triple Threat series.

The 52nd Street Project at Graham-Windham brings together kids at Graham-Windham with professional theatre artists to create theatre. The Other Side is part of our one-on-one program that pairs professional playwrights and actors with kids. Six kids and six actor/playwrights spent a week together in the Hamptons, where the artists wrote one act plays for themselves to perform in with their kid partners. The 52nd Street Project is an independent, nonprofit organization that operates with the cooperation of The Ensemble Studio Theatre. Graham-Windham, founded in 1806, annually serves more than 6,000 children from families throughout the New York area. Its services include foster care and adoption; group homes and residential treatment for abused, neglected and emotionally disturbed children.

PIVOTAL ROLES is made possible in part by grants from The Berrilla Kerr Foundation, The Pumpkin Foundation, Morgan Stanley and The B.E.T.A Fund.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. PIVOTAL ROLES is a production of our Playback program. In it, an adult actor/playwright is paired with a kid actor/playwright. The duo is charged to create two characters for which the kid then writes a play. The adult then responds with a second play using at least one of the two characters. The program was invented to challenge kids who are veterans of the Project's acting and writing programs.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. THE POWER PLAYS are part of our Playmaking program. The young participants receive eight weeks of classes adapted for the Project by Daniel Judah Sklar from his book, Playmaking: Children Writing and Performing Their Own Plays. Each child is given two actors, a theme and a director who guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend in the country. THE POWER PLAYS are the fruits of their labors.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. ALL MIXED UP is part of our Playmaking program. The young participants receive eight weeks of classes adapted for the Project by Joel Judah Sklar from his book, Playmaking: Children Writing and Performing Their Own Plays. Each child is given two actors, a theme and a director who guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend in the country. ALL MIXED UP is the fruits of their labors.

The 52nd Street Project gratefully acknowledges D'Agostino's and Dr. Brown's for their generous contribution of vanilla ice cream and root beer, respectively, for these performances.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. EUREKA! The Discovery Plays are part of the Two-on-Two program, in which a professional playwright creates a play specifically for two kids who are then guided by an adult director. The Two-on-Two's represent the second level of the Project's three-part acting program.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. THE FORGOTTEN PLAYS is a production of our Playback program. In it, an adult actor/playwright is paired with a kid actor/playwright. The duo is charged to invent two characters for the kid to write a play for. The adult then responds with a second play using the same two characters. The program was invented to challenge kids who are veterans of the Project's acting and writing programs.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. SHHH...THE SECRET PLAYS is part of our Playmaking program. Young people participate in eight weeks of classes adapted for the Project by Daniel Judah Sklar from his book, Playmaking: Children Writing and Performing Their Own Plays. During the eight weeks, the participants learn the elements of drama and write their first play. At the end of the class, each child is given two actors, a theme and a director who guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend in the country. SHHH...THE SECRET PLAYS are the fruits of their labors.

respectively, for these performances.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Hell's Kitchen neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. EUREKA 2! The Sequel is part of the Two-on-Two program, in which a professional playwright creates a play specifically for two kids who are then guided by an adult director. The Two-on-Two's represent the second level of the Project's three-part acting program.

The One-on-Ones program is also made possible, in part, with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts, the Department of Youth Services, and the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. DOUBLE OR NOTHING: THE RISKY PLAYS is a production of our One-on-One program, which is designed to give children the opportunity to go away for one week stays in the country and enjoy the undivided attention of a professional theater artist who serves as friend, mentor and role model.

The 52nd Street Project is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. THE OTHER SHOE DROPS is the production of our Playback program. In it, an adult actor/playwright is paired with a kid actor/playwright. The duo is charged to invent two characters for the kid to write a play for. The adult then responds with a second play using the same two characters. All of the children are veterans of the "Playmaking classes" which were adapted for the Project by Daniel Judah Sklar from his book Playmaking: Children Writing and Performing Their Own Plays.

OUT OF ORDER is made possible by generous grants from the Barker Welfare Foundation, Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A., Ann M. Martin Foundation, and the Pumpkin Foundation. In addition, the Playmaking program is also made possible, in part, with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts, the Department of Youth Services, and the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs.

THE 52ND STREET PROJECT is a non-profit organization that brings inner-city children from the Clinton neighborhood together with professional theater artists to create theater. OUT OF ORDER is part of our Playmaking program. Young people participate in eight weeks of classes adapted for the Project by Daniel Judah Sklar from his book, Playmaking: Children Writing and Performing Their Own Plays. During the class sessions, the participants learn the elements of drama and write their first

At the end of the class, each child is given two actors, a theme and a director guides him or her through the writing of a play during a weekend retreat in the country. The OUT OF ORDER plays are the fruits of their labors.
